DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

2. Claims 1, 3, and 6-15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. The original disclosure does not describe the concept of the horizontal plane that the angle is measured from being a plane passing through the point where the lamination roll and carrying roll meet. It also does not disclose the second end of the roll segment being where the film begins to contact the carrying roll. It is noted that one degree measured through the lamination roll axis relative to the horizontal plane includes both above and below the horizontal plane and the original disclosure does not reasonably convey to one in the art that applicant had possession of the concept of one degree below the horizontal plane measured through the lamination roll axis.

3. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

4. Claims 1, 3, and 6-15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

It is unclear what the angle is measured relative to as an angle occurs at the intersection of two planes and while the horizontal plane is considered horizontal to the ground, the point of contact of the rolls is a line, not a plane. This is considered to mean the angle measured through the axis relative to the horizontal plane passing through the axis. It is unclear if applicant intended the second end of the roll segment to be where the film begins to contact the carrying roll or where it leaves the lamination roll or if both are intended to be the same location. The roll segment appears to be the entire surface of the roll that the film contacts so the second point should be where the film leaves the lamination roll and not where it contacts the carrying roll unless these are the same, and it is unclear how the compressing of the final step can occur if the film exits the lamination roll the moment it contacts the carrying roll. It is noted that claim 1 also requires adjusting the carrying roll relative to the lamination roll, and it is unclear why this is necessary or possible when the fixed angles of 89 and 1 degree further in the claim would effectively fix the position of the rolls relative to one another.

Regarding claims 3 and 6, it is unclear how the extruder can be movable relative to the lamination roller when that would move the contact point of the film with the lamination roll, effectively broadening the claim to angles other than 89 degrees rather than narrowing it as is required for dependent claims.

Regarding claim 10, it is unclear what is meant by "limiting said lamination roller to move within a rotational moving stroke of 89 degrees" as the film is on the lamination roll for either  $88(89-1)$  or  $90(89+1)$  degrees. It is unclear how the lamination roll is limited.

If applicant amends the claims to remove the newly added material, the previous rejection would be reinstated and would not be considered a new ground of rejection.

Response to Arguments

5. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1, 3, and 6-15 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

6. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
